

Team building cookery sessions

Join us in the kitchen!

Here at Square Food Foundation, we offer team building events with a difference.

When you book an event with us, there's everything you'd expect from a professional cookery class – with plenty of fun, delicious food and expert chefs at the helm – plus the chance for your team to make an impactful social contribution.

Why choose 'Batch for Good'?

Working together, each group of up to 25 people helps to batch-cook a meal. As well as enjoying the food together at the end, the session generates up to 100 donated meals for the community, sent directly to local people experiencing food insecurity.

Every booking also helps to fund our work – making it a fantastic opportunity for companies looking to fulfil their CSR commitment.

What to expect

- Sessions typically last 2½–3 hours
- Groups of up to 25 people
- Hosted at our fully-equipped cookery school
- Book a morning (10am – 1pm), afternoon (2–5pm) or flexible evening session
- Our expert chefs will lead the event, teaching all the techniques and recipes you'll need
- Enjoy nibbles on arrival and a generous, social family-style meal at the end.

Packages

Our fixed prices include a charitable donation to Square Food Foundation as part of your booking.

Standard group 10–25 people £1,875

Small group Up to 10 people £1,000

Example menus

In our kitchen, the food is always fresh, seasonal and full of flavour.

Our chefs will work with you to agree a menu ahead of time – we can cater for most dietary requirements and use trusted, local suppliers for our ingredients.

Your impact

Every booking helps to fund our important work as a food education charity.

Square Food Foundation believes everyone should have the skills, confidence and opportunity to thrive through food. We make cooking from scratch accessible for people of all ages and abilities – by running free and subsidised cookery classes, connecting with schools across Bristol, providing 150 recipe kits each week, and more.

Our batch-cooked meals are another important way we connect with and support our local community. On behalf of everyone we work with, thank you for considering Square Food Foundation!

“It was so lovely to have the frozen meals. Money is very tight towards the end of the month, so they really help us.”
